Scottish Rite Foundation Day at CU-Boulder

by Vernon B. Ingraham, 33°, Grand Cross
Executive Secretary
Scottish Rite Foundation of Colorado

On July 30, 2010, Scottish Rite Foundation trustees took a tour of the Speech Language and Hearing Sciences building on the Campus of CU-Boulder. This is the home of the Foundation's CU partner RiteCare clinic. The trustees were accompanied by Deborah Hayes, Ph.D., and Valerie Hernandez from The Children's Hospital. Deborah is an adjunct CU faculty member.

Our hosts were Gail Ramsberger, Ph.D., and Susan Moore. Gail is Chair of the Department of Speech, Language and Hearing Sciences. Susan, our CU RiteCare Coordinator, is Director of Clinical Education and Services and CU's Child Learning Center.

Early childhood speech-language and audiology services are provided in the Child Learning Center located in the Speech Language and Hearing Sciences building. During the academic year about 400 children receive speech and related services in the Center with approximately 90 graduate students participating in delivery of services. All services are supervised by clinically certified professional speech-language pathologists and audiologists who are departmental faculty members. The Foundation currently supports the CU RiteCare Childhood Language Program with a $23,000 grant.

(LtoR) Susan Moore; Gerry Ford, 33°; Mike O'Dair, Merrill Lynch;
Karl Hinkle, 33°; Rick Frohlick, 33°; and Matt Richeda, Merrill Lynch

The highlight of the tour was a briefing by one of the Departmental faculty members, Anu Sharma, Ph.D. Dr. Sharma is a professor of audiology and principal investigator in the Department's Brain and Behavior Laboratory. Her fascinating presentation focused on her extensive research pertaining to brain development associated with hearing impaired children who are receiving cochlear implants. This research has been ongoing for several years and now involves selected young children being seen at The Children's Hospital.

Dr. Anu Sharma discussing brain wave research with early childhood age children who are profoundly deaf and candidates/recipients of cochlear implants. Karl Hinkle, Susan Moore, and a graduate student are listening intently.

Other guests of Dr. Sharma are Rick Frohlick, 33°, a graduate student; Lee Schlessman, 33°, Grand Cross; Mike O'Dair, Merrill Lynch; and Gerry Ford, 33°.

During the Trustee's board meeting held later in the day at the CU Law School, Susan Moore was presented with a matching grant check from the SGIG. This award is one way in which the Foundation encourages and supports its partners to seek funding assistance from other organizations. Three of our 11 partner clinics have been awarded matching grants this year to further speech therapy work.

Stephen M. Munsinger, 33°, Sovereign Grand Inspector General in Colorado, presents Susan Moore with a $4,000 matching grant check for speech related use and made in recognition of the CU RiteCare Clinic's success in obtaining additional speech-related funding from other organizations.

The day at CU was highly productive. I think Mike O'Dair, a Merrill Lynch Vice President and Wealth Management Advisor, summed up the trip by saying that the site visit enabled him to connect emotionally with our program, emphasizing that this type of connection is difficult to obtain through written documents and meetings in non-clinical environments.

If you would like to learn more about the speech and related work being done at CU, go to our website, ScottishRiteFoundation.org, click on "Speech Therapy Information;" then click on "Clinic Address and Contact Information." Scroll down to Boulder and click on "More About University of Colorado – Boulder."

Board Meeting at the CU Law School – Boulder

September Meeting at Denver Consistory
Honoring speech pathology graduate students
Showing the recently released RiteCare film

In July the Scottish Rite Foundation of Colorado awarded scholarships to four second-year graduate students, two each from the University of Colorado – Boulder and the University of Northern Colorado. The award to the UNC students is funded by the Colorado Masons’ Benevolent Fund from a grant they made to the Foundation several years ago.

The four students will join us for dinner in September and be honored during the meeting on September 20, 2010. They are:

- Rebecca McNeil, CU
- Hannah Shippey, CU
- Kristin Michie, UNC
- Alyssa Winbourn, UNC

Rebecca McNeil is also one of two Colorado graduate students (both from CU) who received the 2010 Sam and Millie Hilburn Scholarship in the field of Childhood Language Disorders. This scholarship is awarded by the Supreme Council. Since inception of the scholarship, four Colorado graduate students have been recipients. The second 2010 recipient of this prestigious scholarship is Christina Wilkins, who has also been invited to the dinner and meeting as an honored guest of the Foundation.

During the meeting Dr. Deborah Hayes will provide a brief review of the RiteCare program. We will also show our new video, a Colorado RiteCare film released for use in July 2010. The filming was done at The Children’s Hospital and St. Mary’s Life Center in Grand Junction. It features presentations by the Sovereign Grand Commander, Ronald A. Seale, 33°, and our own Steve Munsinger, 33°, as well as families of children, professionals in our RiteCare program including Dr. Hayes, and several of our Colorado Scottish Rite Masons. I know you will be impressed with the quality and content of this film, the seventh film to be produced in Colorado since inception of the Foundation in 1953.

From the Secretary's Desk

by Claud E. Dutro, 33°, Secretary

As I prepare this "letter from home", the Labor Day holiday is upon us, signaling the end of the summer break. I hope you were able to break from your normal routine and participate with your family in the numerous picnics and events that happened during the past couple of months.

Denver Valley of the Scottish Rite joined with El Jebel to sponsor the All Masonic Picnic at Tony Grampasas Park on Sunday, August 15th. El Jebel Shrine provided great barbeque food, drinks, a large blow-up slide, pony rides and bingo. We sponsored and staffed the children's games. Not as many Consistory members and their families attended as we had expected, but all of the children who were there participated and were rewarded with cash prizes and unlimited fun. The money sawdust pit and tug-of-war were the most popular games, but the committee is already planning on how to make the picnic even more exciting next year. We enjoyed perfect weather for a picnic, but our pictures documenting it were overexposed by the bright sunshine. Sorry about that. If you would like to see the El Jebel pictures of the event, watch for the September issue of the Red Fez.

The other summer event for members and their families was the Shrimp Boil. As usual, the food was excellent and the servers were prompt in keeping the tables supplied. They did their job so well that the shrimp were all gone by the time that the servers were ready to eat. Chef Michael to the rescue! It took a few minutes, but more shrimp arrived and the servers did get to eat. We are constantly looking for new ways to involve the membership and plan to have a family educational program next year before the next Shrimp Boil on Friday, August 5. Mark the date on your calendar as soon as you can.

The stated meeting on September 20 will be sports team shirt night and will help us get back into our normal routine with the annual report from the Scottish Rite Foundation. It is always a highlight of the year to see and hear how our supported charity is making a difference in the lives of children who would otherwise have very limited futures. Please keep them in mind as you plan for your end of the year charitable giving. Class pictures and Patents will be presented to the members of the last reunion class at the October stated meeting.

SPECIAL NOTICE

The Grand Lodge of Colorado, the Orient of Colorado and Southern Colorado Consistory have arranged for Illustrious Brother Art De Hoyos, 33, Grand Cross, to come to the stated meeting of Southern Colorado Consistory, 1150 Panorama Drive, Colorado Springs, at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, October 6 to share his studies, stories, and experiences. Brother De Hoyos, Grand Archivist & Grand Historian, is a widely known Masonic author from the Supreme Council office. This rare opportunity is being made available to ALL MASTER MASONS in an open meeting. Gather your Brothers and Scottish Rite prospects and bring a carload. A meal is available at 6:30 p.m. but requires an RSVP to 719-471-7966.

Denver Consistory Site Coordinator

Didn't we just start a new year last week? Seems like time really went by like a gunshot this year. Speaking of time, the 9HealthFair at the consistory in 2011 will be on Saturday, April 9, from 0700-1200. It's never too early to mark your calendars and make a point to let us know that you are interested in helping put on our fair.

Last year, we saw a significant increase in participation from the public - partly because we were outside the normal cycle of the fairs, partly because we didn't conflict with St. John's just down the street, and partly because we were lucky. This year, we're on the first weekend of the normal fairs, but we should still avoid St. John's (and the Shrine Circus) which will help us.

It's never too late to let me know if you're interested in a particular job or function at the fair. I'll be assisted again this year by a medical and non-medical coordinator, so we'll be getting together shortly after we all come back from our summers and working to define what we want to have at the fair and what we need in the way of support.

Meanwhile, keep April in your calendars because it's going to sneak up on us faster than we can imagine.

What do you wear under your clothes?

As Scottish rite Masons, we are initiated into different people (and their characteristics) when they go through the 29 degrees. This is not a casual thing, as these personalities were chosen as examples and are special. The “becoming” of these characters should mold and change the person being made one of these men.

Having just finished some study on the chivalric degrees I just came to realize this and find myself now wearing an invisible white tunic with a red cross on it in my everyday life. This idea changes me. Whether we as a group are associated with the Knights Templar in any way or not, it does not matter. Many very smart men of our fraternity can argue both ways very strongly. But what we find is when we become one of them through the initiatory process – we are one in a way.

The knight’s lofty life goals and individual paths are something which we see paralleled in Masonic ideals. Their deportment and zeal for others is what each of us should be like and things we each can improve upon.

The similarities between what we wear under our outside clothes and maybe Clark Kent is humorous and yet thought provoking. As Scottish Rite 32nd degree Masons, we are many things. One part of this is that we are who we were when initiated. Each one of those people we associated with when receiving the degrees have valuable lessons to teach us. And probably somewhere in that number you will find one or two persons more interesting than the rest. Take those personalities and their good characteristics and emulate them in your lives.

The proof if you are doing this well is not to tell anyone and spend your life being that individual and see if any of your associates recognize the connection. For I now know a handful of friends who are what they have been “passed” into. Their lives and all they do make them what they tried to become. And a few of them (I think if I had the nerve to ask) do have a red (what kind of cross is it? Pike calls it a “tree of life”, in his agenda. It is eight pointed he says) cross on a shirt under their outer clothes. If not physically on them, then on their unseen heart.

Brothers Take Notice!

The Research and Education committee will be selling multiples of old reunion class pictures before and after the October meeting. We have approximately 600 extras that date from 1915 to November 2008 which will be sold for $10.00 each. The funds collected will go to repairing and preserving the complete set we have plus the framed class pictures in our archives.

A CD of the complete set also will be available for $40.00, which includes a digital picture of all the classes in our archives and some unusual patients we have.

One of our damaged class pictures from 1904

Many of the pictures we have in our collection need repair on their frames, new glass and a better way to preserve our history. You have been seeing a number of the better preserved framed pictures popping up walls around the Consistory. But we have a large number that have not been taken care of from the Rocky Mountain, Colorado and Denver Consistories.

This is our history, one which we should not let slip away. The committee has taken steps to organize, store and start on the repair and showing of these valuable images, but we need your help in this.

May 1944

If you have lost your class picture, or would like a better one to replace what you have, this is the time to do so. We will have them there for you to pick up, just check the list and see if your class is on it. Or if you need one as a part of your family history; if a father or grandfather went through the degrees in Denver, we probably have either a hard copy or a digital one in our archives.

We even have about a dozen bound and wrapped packages of pictures, some framed that have never seen light from the 1910s to 1930s, which we like to keep that way and preserve them for future Scottish Rite Masons to enjoy. So – take notice!

Knights of St. Andrew

by Rich Silver, 32°

Brothers, the Knights of Saint Andrew have had a busy summer! We have provided a CPR/AED class, got involved in the All Masonic Picnic, started a KSA shirt project and we are planning a KSA picnic.

In July the Knights provided CPR and AED training for Knights, family members and members of the Consistory. This class is designed to give us the confidence to respond in an emergency situation with skills that can save a life. It is our goal to have as many Knights trained in these valuable procedures as possible and we will be scheduling other opportunities for you to attend later in the year.

The All Masonic Picnic was a great success, due in part to the participation of many of our Knights. This was the first year that the KSA participated in this annual event and we had a great time providing the games for the kids. We plan to make this an annual event for the KSA and look forward to your participation in the future!

We are looking for volunteers from our KSA members to participate in the Consistory committees. By becoming part of a committee you will have the opportunity to learn how your Consistory works and be a more active participant. Please contact Venerable Master Mark Ralston and let him know what committees you would like to participate in at ksadenver@yahoo.com.

Your feedback will be greatly appreciated with regard to changing the KSA meeting day and time. Trying to meet on Stated Meeting nights seems to be rushed and many brothers are not able to attend at 5:00. Please let us know when you would like to meet and what type of social events you would like to see scheduled so we can bring our families into our KSA activities.

Have you ordered your KSA polo or hat? We now have polo shirts and KSA hats available in a variety of colors. The KSA logo has been digitized and it came out great. The shirts and hats are available to all Knights and alumni.

Just My Opinion ...

by D. J. Cox, 32° KCCH

In these dire economic times, charities of all types are feeling the effects of greater need and fewer resources. Money is tight! But, is money the real culprit?

Charity can, and should, take many forms. The Grand Lodge has the Benevolence Fund, the Scottish Rite has its Foundation and the Shrine have hospitals. Does Masonic charity go beyond its basic institutions? Is there a beginning and/or an end to Masonic charity?

In 1772, William Preston wrote "To relieve the distressed is a duty incumbent on all men, but particularly on Freemasons who are linked together by an indissoluble chain of sincere affection. To soothe the unhappy, to sympathise with their misfortunes, to compassionate their miseries, and to restore their troubled minds, is the great aim we have in view". Nowhere in this view is the mention of money --- "to soothe ...to sympathise ... to compassionate ... to restore" --- these are words of caring and involvement.

There are other effective and distinctive ways in which we can bring relief to the distressed. We can be there. We can be involved. We can truly care! Visit the elderly. Listen to someone that just wants to talk about their situation. Give some a ride to a doctor or grieving relative. Provide a meal for someone in need. Play catch with the kid next door whose parent is deployed to the Middle East. Be there when the need arises and respond to the need.

It doesn't cost a dime to offer a willing hand or an attentive ear. There is no bill for involvement at a time of need. There is, however, satisfaction, peace of mind, and appreciation for the little things we can do for others. Our actions are another form of charity.

Anyway, that's just my opinion.
